THE HORTICULTURISTS.

PRESERVATION AND PROPAGATION OF FORESTS.

Papers Read and Discussion of an Important Subject—Views of Various Practical Horticulturists—Etc., Etc.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 9.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The great citrus fair still goes on, and is crowded with visitors day and evening.

A large brass band arrived from Los Angeles yesterday, and helped to enliven the scene. In the morning a large number of carriages conveyed visitors and citizens over some of the famous drives in the vicinity. In the afternoon the Horticultural Society held a lengthy session, the Congregational Church being as full of listeners. The object considered during this session was one of the utmost importance, both to California and the country at large. The fair is announced to continue till the 17th inst.

At 2 o'clock p.m. the President, Earle called the meeting of the Horticultural Society to order, and announced that a few moments would be devoted to receiving new members into the society. Quite a number of persons came forward and enrolled their names.

The president read a letter from Mr. L. B. Pierce announcing his regret at being unable to carry out his intention of visiting Riverside on account of the death of Grace V. Beebe, a member of the society, at Talmadge, O.

He then announced the subject to be considered as and proceeded to read an able and lengthy paper entitled "What Should Congress Do for Our Forests?" prepared by B. E. Fernow, Chief of the Division of Forestry, Department of Agriculture.

The great work to be done in this direction is to get the attention of Congress to look after the forest interests as much as to any other natural production used by the people. The amount of timber annually is over 30,000,000,000 feet, and is cut twice as much as we supply the wants of consumption.

The necessity of governmental care of forestry interests is based upon peculiar conditions. The large manufacturers may crowd out all smaller concerns and become monopolies.

The long time necessary for the growth of timber products makes it difficult to grow timber for profit.

The timber supply has an important influence upon agriculture and horticulture in its vicinity.

The time has come for every man to think upon this subject. One of the most important features is to protect from fire.

A fire commissioner should be appointed to the state to take charge of the forests of timber near and supply as many as the national department at Washington. Encouragement to the planting of new areas is necessary, and this should be done by communities and not by individuals.

At the conclusion of the reading, the president announced that the subject was open for discussion. He hoped that the report of the sub-judges would command earnest attention, as it deserved; and that the society would emphatically announce its opinion upon forestry protection and utilization.

Previous to this discussion, he announced the presentation of a paper by Robert Douglas of Illinois, to be read by Abbott Clegg, of the University of Michigan, which took up the ground that the conditions of climate and rainfall on this coast, was different from that in the East as to forest culture, and that much more could be done to encourage the growth of timber products.

In the cause of T. B. de Haley vs. S. Hale, the demurser was sustained, and 10 days later given time to plaintiff to amend complaint.

JUDGE HUTTON.

The cause of Howell vs. Slanson was argued and submitted and taken under advisement.

The cause of Arnold vs. Bryant et al. was dismissed.

The action of Reckardt vs. Durk was decided in plaintiff's favor.

In the cause of T. B. de Haley vs. S. Hale the demurser was sustained, and 10 days later given time to plaintiff to amend complaint.

Mr. Leurs said the locust did well in New Mexico.

Prof. Klee said the eucalyptus was a valuable tree, but some species (globulus) were very tender. The so-called red gum was more hardy, and an equally fast grower.

The cause of Reyes vs. Reyes final decree in partition was signed and filed.

The cause of Whiting vs. Wilkes was argued and submitted and taken under advisement.

JUDGE TANEY.

The cause of Bradford vs. Sanchez was set for trial February 13th.

In the cause of Miller et al. vs. Frassant, the motion for judgment by default was denied, and given two days to answer complaint.

The case of R. Davis was continued until February 13th.

In the cause of McKey vs. Shaw, a judgment was ordered for plaintiff as prayed for.

Nine disturbances of the peace were fined from $10 to $50.

In the case of C. J. Morrison, charged with petit larceny, a jury was impaneled.

JUDGE AUSTIN.

Joseph Keefe, Frank Brown, Eddie Morris, and James Moriarty, wandering to the city, had seen it demonstrated, that a mountain timber, which they took to be pine, had been stripped of its bark, and was now more hardy, and an equally fast grower.

The cause of Alton Garofe of asault with intent to kill was dismissed, and defendant discharged.

Le Ne was examined and held to answer to the charge of rape, with bail at $2000.

Harry Williams was sentenced to the County Jail for 75 days for vagrancy.

The cause of L. D. Ladd, of obtaining money under false pretenses was withdrawn and defendant discharged.

The charge against Louis Garofe asault and defendant discharged.

Le Ne was examined and held to answer to the charge of rape, with bail at $2000.

Fried Arborgast and Otto Norman were fined each for disorderly conduct.

David W. Moore held to answer to the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, with bail fixed at $500.

Another charge against him of embezzlement was dropped for examination until February 18th.

Four drunks were fined in sums from $1 to $10.

Six vagrants were fined in sums from $15 to $25.

C. Scherbin was fined $1 for depositing garbage.

Six Chinamen were arraigned and will be tried today for visiting a gambling-room.

AN OLD MAN

Gets Himself Into Serious Trouble

A. Old gray-haired man named David Title appeared before Justice Austin yesterday to stand trial for obtaining goods under false pretenses upon a complaint made by Epstein Bros, merchants of this city.

Mr. Masters, attorney for the defense, stated that he intended to strike out the last clause of the bill, relating to the rescue of the old man.

Mr. Masters of Texas spoke in favor of a bill introduced in the present session as a means to correct an error already made at San Jose.

Mr. Ragan of Indiana moved to lay the bill on the table; carried.

Mr. Masters then spoke briefly on the subject of the bill.

Prof. Klee called for the reading of the minutes of the action of the society of forestry for the year.

Prof. Redpath stated the substance of the resolutions.

Mr. Kinner, chairman of the Forestry Committee of California, stated that what was done on the subject in this State.

A survey map was being made, and Prof. Kinner and wife were making a descriptive profile of the forest land in the country.

Prof. Kinner was engaged in protecting forests from fires and depredations.

Mr. Smith of Wisconsin said that not long ago it was thought that the timber supply of the country was supposed to be inexhaustible, yet the most heavily wooded sections of the North, the next 15 or 20 years would see the supply almost or entirely destroyed.

Prof. Klee of Minnesota spoke on the subject in his State.

Mr. Manson of Texas rose to inform the body that a minority report on the fruit question would be sent to Congress.

Prof. Kinner rose to speak from D. G. Know of Washington, D. C., calling attention to the fact that by the perjury of men a foreign syndicate had obtained millions of acres of timber land in California, and asking the society to endorse a memorial to Congress on the subject.

Quite a discussion arose as to the action the society on this subject.

Mr. Masters of Nebraska endorsed the

THE FREEHOLDERS.

A MEETING OF THE BOARD YES-TERDAY AFTERNOON.

Committee Work Beginning to Get Under Good Headway—The New Charter Promises to Be Held Not in More Ways Than One.

The Board of Freeholders met in the Council chamber at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with Mayor Workman presiding, and the following members present: Leon, Thompson, Tel Valle, Simsbaugh, Lee, and Moran.

Mr. Bernard of Nebraska spoke of the vast amounts of forest lands acquired by corporations, and the waste caused by their procurement and sale for their various uses.

He was informed that one corporation was now employing 10,000 men in cutting railroad ties, and wasting vast amounts of timber, and it was desired that the method of investigation be invited to call, and the method of treatment will be fully and freely explained by Dr. D. A. Cashman, rooms 12 and 13, California Bank building, corner Fort and Second streets.

The greatest Stock of Lumber.

And building material in this city is carried by the Schellert-Ganahl Lumber Company at their three yards, located as follows: Main yard, corner First and Alameda streets; Washington street yard, corner Grand avenue and Washington street; East Los Angeles yard, corner Fort and Water streets.

There is King of California.

Businesses should be open about the time of description about this indispensable article. Citrus fruits can't be raised without it. Many sellers promise water, but few can show it. The Porter Land and Water Company, First and Spring streets, invite inspection of their lands and water at San Fernando.

ARMY NEWS.

WHAT IS BEING DONE IN MILITARY CIRCLES.
Each Man's Boys and What They are Doing—The Citizen-soldiers
The Old Grand Army Boys and
What the Various Posts are Doing.

There has been but little news in army circles during the past week.

A general order of Gen. Schofield has been received at the headquarters of the Department of Arizona, in this city, revoking a former order announcing the target practice at the several posts in the division, for the current year.

By a special order of Gen. Miles, a general court-martial convened at San Carlos, Ariz., by special orders of series No. 1, is dissolved, and a general court-martial is appointed to meet at San Carlos, Ariz., on Wednesday, February 15th, for the tried such prisoners as may be properly brought before it.

Following is the detail for the court: Maj. Emil Adam, Sixth Cavalry; Capt. George B. Russell, Ninth Infantry; Capt. Charles D. Viele, Tenth Cavalry; First Lieut. Frederick W. Wooley, Tenth Infantry; Second Lieut. E. V. Triplett, Tenth Cavalry; First Lieut. William G. Elliot, Ninth Cavalry; Judge Advocate; Second Lieut. F. B. Fowler, First Cavalry, in relieved from his duty at San Carlos, and ordered to join his troops at Fort Verde, to follow the movements of the Tenth Cavalry; and Captain Troop G, to Captain Troop A, from a date December 20th, Morrison, retired, James W. Morrison, from Second Lieutenant Troop F, First Lieutenant, Troop C, dated December 22, 1887.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company, one of the wealthiest concerns in the country, has not much concerned regarding the diversions and dire predictions of a "collapse" of the Southern California boom that gain publicity through the columns of eastern newspapers. On the contrary, the company has a firm faith in the future of this country, if we may judge from the manner in which they are increasing their facilities for handling the rapidly growing traffic between San Francisco and the southern ports of this State. Their latest "venture" is the purchase of the City of Puebla, a splendid and commodious screw-wheel steamer, as a companion to the Queen of the Pacific and the Santa Rosa. Now comes the San Francisco Post that the company that owns it to the heavy traffic the company kept in the spring will probably dispatch a fast iron vessel daily to San Diego, stopping at Port Harford, Santa Barbara and San Pedro." The Post further says: "With the City of Puebla and Capt. J. N. Knowles' new steel steamer added to the fleet there will be five fast daily steamers on the line and with these the price of honey will be much lower than now, both in California, the Eastern States and the West India Islands, the price of honey has gone up nearly one-half more than it was a year ago, and this right in the face of low-tariff sugar, an article that has heretofore governed the price of honey to a greater extent.

Among the men of means now pouring into Southern California in search of a salubrious climate and a rich soil, that has never failed to give a fine crop in a hundred years, no doubt many may be found who have in their hands honed the honey bee, either for profit or pleasure—that measure, derived from investigating the habits and peculiar instincts of the most wonderful creature in animated nature, seemingly endowed with an intelligence that man himself can hardly measure. To such men, coming, as they mostly do, from northern latitudes, where winter care of bees is often greater than the care and labor bestowed in summer, we will say, take hold of your bees business in this land of sunshine, where, on an average, there are not 15 days out of the 365 of the year, in which the bee is not on the wing—in this land of perpetual bloom, where the honey bee may gather nectar every day in the year. Take hold with your spirit, and keeping step with the progress and development of society, help the honey-bee to gather and store the unlimited quantity of nectar that burdens the bloom of millions on millions of flowers in this favored land of ours, and save from the wild winds this wealth of sweetness that would otherwise forever lost to mankind.

Whether or not the above information is strictly correct, remains to be seen. One thing, however, is certain, San Diego and Southern California generally will continue to grow steadily in wealth and population, and it is reasonable to suppose that the traffic through this section and the metropolis will increase.

As the steamship company's facilities are too heavy for its present facilities, a daily steamer from San Francisco is getting ready to be built for this company.

As soon as the commissions of the officers, etc., will be issued for the formation of a regiment; the number will be known.

Whether or not the above information is strictly correct, remains to be seen. Gen. Mathews informed a Times reporter that he expects to parade in the Fourth of July, 1888, here, in the city of Los Angeles, with not less than six companies, and possibly eight.

Recruits will then have an opportunity to inspect the condition of the National Guard, which will be when he assumes command of the brigade.

As soon as the commissions of the officers, etc., will be issued for the formation of a regiment; the number will be known.

The Times has a larger home edition than any other newspaper published in Southern California.

Now, Kline denies that he ever said anything about the Northern Citrus Belt, and the Record-Union it would be a lie if he had.

CAROLINA offers a marked contrast to Southern California. There is not a single city in that State. Wilmington, its largest town, has 19,000 people.

ASHINGTON society has been treated the unique spectacle of a Chinaman dressed in flowing robes, leading a gentry with an American society belle partner.

It is to be hoped that Congress will upon Col. Mendell's recommendation appropriate $15,000 for its use at Wilmington and Dego harbors.

YEARS are evidently hurrying up at hold of real estate before the sun drops out. During the first days of this month there were more transfers than during the period of 1887.

VENTA BARBARA has a new journal the Tri-weekly Bugle. We wish success but fear that a paper which is out handicapped with such a title will run the risk of being blasted to the full blown. It may win.

HEN SHERMAN very pertinently reflected, at Boston, on Thursday last, a surplus is a good deal better than a deficit. The same idea seems to everyone except Cleveland, so troubled by a surplus of fat that probably looks upon anything as nature of a surplus as an evil.

THING seems to have been done in regard to the disgruntled man in which the streets are obstructed by building material. Our citizens are becoming very impatient of the press of affairs and look for the usual to take every prompt action in matter, which we trust they do.

THE SUPREME COURT of California decided the celebrated San Jacinto case, giving to Indians the right to their lands. This is hard on who hold a United States patent portion of the land, and shows great need of circumspection in finally examining titles, especially as the land has been covered by a oil grant.

an authorities of San Francisco bound to crush out the smallpox city, and it isn't safe for the son of a single pimple to appear on the streets. A little eight-year-old was kept in the pesthouse for days who had a few eruptions, who was as far from having the pox as if there were nothing of kind in existence. "A little wedge is a dangerous thing."

SEYNS, the arch-abortionists of Francisco, whose victims are numbered by scores, has hitherto slipped through the meshes of the law by well known to San Francisco mafias, but it looks as if he might get his deserts. He is on trial, two other villains, for conspiring to murder a man, and the evidence overpoweringly against him that difficult to see how he can escape. Should have dangled at the end of long ago.

marked contrast to the doleful lies sent to eastern papers by discredited and dubious persons is the confirmation in yesterday's TIMES of a carpenter, who arrived in Los Angeles three years ago with $50 and a few tools, and now has over $20,000. Hundreds of similar cases might be told, which go to show that a man luck and industry may easily acquire a competency in this country in a few years. It is safe to say a man who cannot make a living in Southern California would starve to anywhere else, unless he lived on charity of his friends.

is reported from many quarters that Blaine has authorized the arrangement that he will not be a candidate before the Republican Convention.

Possibly the wish is father to the thought in this case, as it cannot be denied that many Republicans believe Blaine would best serve his party by allowing his name to be used. Blaine is now much spoken of as a candidate whose nomination would insure victory to the Republican standard. Gen. Sherman will, however, be almost sure to decline a nomination, if tendered. His great brother is not likely to be called to lead the way to victory.

A Critic Affair.

The citrus fair at Riverside seems to be a great success as far as the show of fruit is concerned. The eastern horticulturist can scarcely have failed to perceive the difference between the Southern Citrus Belt and that of the north, as represented by the half-frozen and insipid oranges exhibited at San José. From a social point of view, however, the affair appears to be not quite so satisfactory as might have been wished. A prominent member of the American Horticultural Society, who has just returned from Riverside, in the course of conversation referred to the progress of the eastern visitors through the northern part of the State as a "triumphal march." They received one continuous ovation; they were treated like princes and not allowed to pay for anything. Having heard so much of the magnificent scale upon which everything in Southern California is conducted, they naturally anticipated at least equally good treatment at Riverside. They were, therefore, considerably surprised when on arriving there they found very meager preparations made for them, quite a number being forced to pay a dollar for the privilege of sleeping on the floor. In San José a committee of citizens had secured rooms long in advance, among private families. It would seem that something might have been done at Riverside. The gentleman referred to was too courteous to make invincible comparisons, but, from his remarks, it is plain to see that the impression left on the minds of the horticulturists, by their receptions up north and here, was largely in favor of the former.

This contumacy is much to be regretted. Riverside on this occasion represents Southern California, on the strength of her generally conceded position as the center of the Southern Citrus Belt. It would seem that her citizens are so very confident in their own minds of the great and lasting superiority of their section that they are willing to allow less favored places to excel them in hospitality. Were this the first instance of the kind, it might be attributed to accident or overstatement. It will be remembered, however, that upon the occasion of the meeting of the State Horticultural Society at Riverside last summer, the visitors were very disagreeably astonished by being presented with a bill for rent of the hall in which they held their meeting.

It may be—as one of the mottoes at the fair states—"The Riverside navel wears the crown" (a curious position for a crown, by the way), but it would seem that the citizens of that flourishing place have as yet scarcely acquired the gift of extending a royal hospitality to their guests. It might be a good idea to see what Los Angeles can do with the next convention.

The New York Herald of January 20 contains a two column letter from a liar of more than usual brilliancy and picturesqueness, who might even give points to the "well-known" coffin filler of El Paso, whom we quoted yesterday. The Herald man prophesies that all outlying country will revert to sheep pasture. That is rather rough.

Most of these able correspondents tell how our town will go back to orchard and vineyard, but this heartless prævaricator won't even leave us that satisfaction. Why don't we say we shall revert to original chaos when "the earth was without form and void and darkness was upon the face of the deep?" All these correspondents shoot so far beyond the mark as to defeat their purpose and make both themselves and the papers they misrepresent ridiculous. They do not lie with a skill.

There was quite an interesting discussion on forest culture at the River-side horticultural meeting. Prof. Budd of Iowa, who has travelled much, expressed the opinion that the denuding of vast areas of Northern California and Oregon of their timber will lower the average temperature of Southern California, if the past history of other localities is of any value. While on this subject it may be noted that a dispatch from Cleveland, O., mentions the remarkable fact that the great lakes are all a foot and a half lower than ever before known, the cause of which phenomenon is stated to be a mystery. Might it not possibly be explained by the immense clearing

AN INDIAN FEUD.

SAN FRANCISCO NOTES.

Meeting of the Board of Health.

Boruck's Libel suit.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] A special meeting of the Board of Health was called this evening by Mayor Pond. A resolution to quarantine all infected vessels for a period of 15 days was defeated, and one making the time 14 days was carried. Dr. Perry coincided with the Mayor in so far as he considered that perhaps on board the vessel the Belgic should be removed to another vessel before the vessel was docked. Dr. McCarthy took a similar view, and on moving to that effect it was carried, with a provision that the cargo should be taken ashore the vessel should be ordered into quarantine.

BORUCK SUES THE POST.

M. D. Boruck, private secretary of the Governor, has filed a suit against the Presidio of the city for an editorial article reflecting on himself.

TOWN TALK.

The steamer Belgic has been released from quarantine, and is discharging her cargo.

It is reported that the Del Campo steamship, the Belice, has been chartered to go into the coal trade between this city and British Columbia ports.

The remains of Walter Murray Gibson, late Premier of the Hawaiian Kingdom, were placed on the steamer Zealandia and sent to Honolulu four hours later, and the Indians dispersed. Bethel and Walker, half-breeds, remained behind, built a camp-fire and renewed their drinking.

Robert J. Burdette, the humorist, arrived in the evening after a business trip.

It is stated that the Del Campo steamship will soon resume business to this port with new steamers, those coming before being too much of the tramp route to catch.

Judge Sullivan today sentenced George Daly, who was convicted of assault on John Christian, to three years imprisonment in Folsom.

HUNTINGTON'S PLAN.

MORMON POLITICS.

Lively Meeting at Salt Lake—Gov. West Hosted.

SALT LAKE, Feb. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] The Anti-Fusionists held a mass meeting in the Federal courthouse to ratify the nominations on the straight Gentleman ticket, which it has been decided to run at the municipal election next Monday. Calls were made for Gov. West, who announced his candidacy. The governor responded, and was accorded recognition by the chair. He proceeded to explain why he believed in the fusion ticket. There could be no division among the gentiles on the main issue, and he sincerely believed that to reject four counselors with the assurance of getting nothing by running a straight ticket would be a mistake.

The Governor was several times hooted by those taking exception to his remarks, and was called to order by the chair. He showed how work had been done to elect five Liberal Representatives to the U. S. Legislature. Here were offices in the leading municipality offered an effort to obtain to obtain them and the question is, will you accept them? Loud cries of "No! no!" Then followed a speech by the Governor, closed his speech by asking every Liberal to cast his vote next Monday untrammeled by prejudice and for the best interests of the country.

Henry Lawrence made a vigorous reply to the Governor's speech. He welcomed every Liberal who had come to the Terrible Hall to help in the fight, and his friend, Gov. West, among the others who were mistaken in the idea that there was good manifested by the Mormons in this move.

The Anti-Fusionists, led by the chairman of the Central Pacific, and seconded by the Central Pacific and see

He had been with the road since its organization. His associates were all neighbors of his and came into the organization at his personal solicitation. He had asked them not because they were men of means, but because of their integrity.

He had been in 12 hours a day on the company's business from that day to this and none of the company's employees had worked harder.

Men who went over the road in a short time did not earn as much but it had cost a great deal of work.

Huntington, describing at length the difficulties attending the construction of the road, said: "I am extending the amount of the road to 100 miles, and that could be done at a cost of $100,000.

At Wapwallopen nearly every building was damaged or wrecked. Besides those killed over 40 were injured.

They were mostly flying fragments.

The Methodist Church, 300 feet away, was completely wrecked. No trace of the foundation could be seen, and the roof was torn off.

Henry Clark, who was only 21 years old, was jumping over 100 pounds when he alighted from the cabin and ran to the top of a mountain a quarter of a mile away.

JOHN SHERMAN.

The Ohio Senator Speaks to Rhode Island Republicans.

PROVIDENCE (R. I.), Feb. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] The Young Men's Republican Club was addressed this evening by Hon. John Sherman and Hon. C. H. Gove, member of Congress from Ohio.

Senator Sherman, in his address, referred to the auspicious opening of the Presidential campaign and the importance of influencing the young men's Republican clubs would exert on the political movement of the day.

He spoke in most vigorous denunciation of the emigration to this country of communists, anarchists and socialists.

He also spoke of the semi-annual meetings of the Central Pacific and see

The Great Match in New York Nearly Ended.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In the walking match at midnight the score stood: Albert, 545; Henry, 521; Guerrero, 512.

At the end of the fifth day Albert had 545 miles to his credit. Just four miles and two tenths ahead of the world's record for that distance.

Huntington, representing the stockholders, made the proposal to the committee.

Huntington, "Well, Mr. Chairman, is there any objection to the proposal?"

The chairman asked if the Central Pacific claimed that it could not pay its debts.

The presentation was made at the Old Settlers' meeting this morning, Manager L. M. Holt of the citrus fair making the presentation speech.

The presentation speech was delivered by Mr. Tracy, who was present.

Witness said they expected to get something off the debt on account of the equities, but he estimated the payments to be $100,000.

Mr. Holt asked if the company believed that the Government did not want to make any change, being admitted into the trust.

Mr. Tracy said the record of the debt on account of the equities was $100,000.

WALL STREET EXCITED.

A Herald Reporter Goes on a Trip and His Neighbors Go Crazy. Yesterday afternoon information was lodged at the police station to the effect that a young married couple had disappeared. The excited neighbors near Wall and Fourth streets saw the couple move into a house on the corner last Saturday. Their furniture and baggage was left in the yard, which the exception of a small portion which was used in fitting up a kitchen and bedroom. That same day the couple disappeared, but the neighbors did not think there was anything wrong until yesterday, when a search was made. The house looked as though it had not been occupied by the new tenants, and people came to the conclusion that a second Anshlag case had been discovered. Officers were sent out, but were left for a TIME reporter to discover the mystery, which was no mystery at all. The young man is a new reporter on the Herald, and before he had been in his new quarters a dozen hours, his city editor sent him to the office to get news, and he took his wife with him. The only mistake he made was in not telling his neighbors that he was a reporter. He will return home this morning.

A BRITISH ARMY OFFICER ARRESTED FOR REVEALING OFFICIAL SECRETS.

HOW JELLY LIND DISPOSED OF HER ESTATES—CONFLICTING REPORTS ABOUT THE GERMAN CROWN PRINCE'S CONDITION—OTHER MATTERS IN THE OLD WORLD.

TELEGRAM TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] In the Commons this evening Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, continuing the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech, commented on the changed tone Gladstone had manifested in his speech of last evening. "Where," he asked, "was the impassioned orator, who used all the resources of rhetoric to inflame the public mind against the law and against political economy?"

Mr. Gladstone interrupted the speaker by saying that there was not an atom of foundation for such an assertion.

Balfour, continuing, said that grave reflections had been cast on the resident magistrates in Ireland. It was true that they were dependent for appointment on the executive of the Government, but, out of a total of 73 magistrates, Earl Spencer appointed or approved 60 when he revised the list. The number of persons tried for criminal offenses reached 2,100, while in 1887 the total was 1,800. The Government's efforts to protect persons from vexatious trials were probably successful in the counties of Clare and Kerry, where the league has been suspended. People now traveling in Ireland declare that the condition of the country has greatly improved, and the judge confirmed this opinion.

Agreed to.

After consultation with Parnell, O'Brien obtained the consent of the Irish leaders to raise a question of privilege in the Commons on Monday, with regard to the arrest of Payne and himself.

Gilligan, who had been in jail overnight and taken to prison, surrounded by large crowds. Many members of Parliament followed the prisoner and tried to enter the jail, but were barred out by the police. The crowd will be taken to Ireland early in the morning.

Parnell, after witnessing the arrest, turned to the House of Commons, and was accompanied by fully 100 Comyners who refused to stand aside, and had to be forcibly thrust out of the way by detectives.
